I Lean on my Family. . .

A photograph of a family of three sitting in a field of tall green grass. A woman with short brown hair, wearing a purple hoodie, is on the left, smiling. A man with long brown hair and a beard, wearing a grey sweater, is on the right, also smiling. A young child with blonde hair, wearing a white shirt and a dark vest, is in the center, looking towards the camera. The family is holding hands and appears to be enjoying a walk in the grass.

I lean on my family. First of all, my parents work and pay for the school. And they feed me. And they taught me a lot of things.

I Lean on my teachers. . .

I lean on my teachers alot. It is because if there was no help from teachers my english level wouldn't have grown.

When a friend is crying
I don't leave her alone
No, not as there is time to ask what happened
I hug her tight...
